

Richard Lynch, DO US Army General, Retired

Director of Radiology and Diagnostic Infrared Imaging
Over 44 Years in Practice

✓

82nd Airborne Infantry

332nd Medical Brigade Commanding General

June 1998 to June 2001 (81ST RSC)

Over 44 Years in Practice

Brooke Army Medical Center

Mammography Radiology Department

Fort Sam Houston, TX

Chief Mammography Section

JFK Memorial Hospital

Radiology Dept Chief Interventional Radiologist

Radiology Accomplishments:

General Diagnostic Radiology to include mammography/Breast Ultrasound and Percutaneous Breast Needle Localization/ Percutaneous Stereotactic Breast Biopsy, Ductograms, Percutaneous Ultrasound Guided Breast Biopsy, Percutaneous Metallic Clip Insertion, MRI Breast and MRI Guided Biopsies (Breast), Ultrasound Guided Cyst Aspirations, Specimen Radiography

- ✓ Mammography-Computer Aided Detection (CAD)
- ✓ Infrared Breast Diagnosis
- ✓ Angiography, all phases to include Interventional Radiology and Percutaneous Transluminal Angioplasty and Stent Placement.
- ✓ Special procedures, major and minor Percutaneous Vertebroplasty Ultrasound with U/S Guided Biopsy
- ✓ Nuclear Medicine to include Cardiac
- ✓ Computerized Axial Tomography with CT Guided Biopsy, CT Angiography Magnetic Resonance Imaging/MRI Angiography
- ✓ PET/CT Fusion
- ✓ Cerebral Revascularization
- ✓ Medical Legal Consultant Plaintiff and Defense (15 years experience) Depositions and Trials- Hospital Consultant Medicolegal Issues
- ✓ AUTHOR The Bretz Stevenson Patch An Autologous Abdominal Fat Pad Transfer to Surmount the 7mm Skin Spacing Barrier in Using a Partial Breast Irradiation Device (APBI)
- ✓ Philip Bretz, M.D., John Stevenson, M.D. Richard Lynch, D.O., Philip Dreisbach, M.D. Luke Dreisbach, M.D.